

U.S. Senator Chuck Grassley

Speaking to an Audience of Business Owners and Accountants

I've always believed that the tax code should encourage the success of small and medium businesses. And for creating jobs for small and medium-sized businesses because they are the economic engine of our economy.

Business owners should learn about the tax incentives meant for you. There's a long list of tax provisions that provide much-needed tax relief to businesses and individuals.

What worries me is that many of you here – business owners and accountants - too often think that these tax incentives ... that these just happen to be for big corporations. And I want to impress upon you that ... nothing could be further from the truth!

The IRS reported recently about 85% of the R&D credit went to the largest companies of America. The key reason? The largest companies were much more active than small and medium companies in applying for the credits.

Too often small and medium businesses just simply are not taking advantage of the R&D, and many other incentives.

A comedian once said that, "90% of life is just showing up." The same is true with tax. The small and medium businesses need to show up and take advantage of these benefits.

So my message to you is, learn about the tax incentives that are available. These incentives can help your business succeed and thrive.
